

LITTLE COLORADO MEDICAL CENTER EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

Location: Winslow, AZ

Markets: Healthcare

Loven Contracting provided healthcare construction services to the Little Colorado Medical Center in Winslow, Arizona. 13,000SF of new space was added onto the existing Emergency Department, and the scope of our work also included:

- Five state-of-the-art trauma rooms
- Five new emergency rooms
- A rooftop heliport
- A new nurse's station

Loven Contracting added 13,000SF new space to the existing Emergency Department, including state-of-the-art trauma rooms, emergency rooms, a rooftop heliport, and new nurse's station.

Loven Contracting facilitated additional changes and modifications to the healthcare campus, including a renovation of the waiting room and Emergency Departments. To increase efficiency and reliability, the Emergency Department rooms were designed semi-circularly and set up to be visible from the nurse's station to promote fast and prompt patient care. Loven Contracting's health construction also included in the expansion was a psychiatric room was added to the hospital's emergency department. The ER expansion also incorporates aesthetic design choices that match the design of previously built clinics, with colors and trim materials selected to be functional and create an atmosphere of comfort for patients.

Loven Contracting worked with LCMC staff to design a semi-circular layout for the new Emergency Department, enabling better visibility for each treatment room from the nurse's station.

Finishes in the expanded emergency department were carefully integrated to match the existing facility both aesthetically and in terms of durability and reduced maintenance costs.
